CLV supports parents with intellectual disabilities to effectively care for their children by providing practical parenting knowledge and information via weekly home visits, frequent phone calls and emails as well as attending various school and community meetings with parents.

Parent Support Program assistance includes:

- Pre and post natal care
- Practical tips for infant and child care
- Activities and play ideas for children
- Home and street safety
- Setting expectations/developing positive discipline strategies
- Budgeting and nutrition
- Connecting families to community programs and resources

The PSP is funded by Community Living BC (CLBC). Referrals and acceptance into the program are decisions made by CLBC. Individuals must meet CLBC's eligibility of having an intellectual disability. Interested individuals should contact a CLBC facilitator at 250-952-4203
